

BIENVENIDOS

(WELCOME FRIENDS!)

In 1943 our country was at war, WWII and millions of young men left home to "join up". Garin Ferguson left Springfield, his girl-Betty Hall, and a job at Heer's Department Store to join the Army Air Corp. First stop was Aloe Field in Victoria, Texas. Missing Betty, he sent a telegram proposing marriage. She said yes; they married on his first leave.

While flying P-40's, B-24's and B29's at Randolph Field in San Antonio, Garin (Hargrave to many of you) fell in love again...with Tex-Mex food. This passion for Mexican food would follow him home to the Ozarks.

After the war, the Fergusons returned to Springfield. Garin started Ferguson Crop Dusting Service, dusting and seeding from here to Tunica, Mississippi. His career would span 17 years, 11 pilots, 9 Stearman biplanes and one run-in with power lines.

Garin and Betty bought the Pig-N-Bun in 1951, a longtime barbecue restaurant at National & Bennett. And there, Garin gave Springfield its first taste of Mexican food! Working from Texas memories and with the help of Mike (yes, the legendary Mike), the same recipes you enjoy to this day, made their debut.

In the late 50's, the Fergusons moved to Glenstone (across from the Cat & Fiddle) to open "Old Mexico", the city's first carry-out restaurant. They leased the Pig-N-Bun to Tommy Lafino for his Italian Villa. Betty worked in the restaurant and Garin cropdusted. He'd "buzz" the restaurant on his way to the Division Street airport and she'd go pick him up.

When Tommy Lafino retired, the Fergusons came back to National, replaced Italian with Mexican on the neon sign--Mexican Villa was born. The El Taco on Kearney opened in the early 60's followed by the Villa East, Comida, Villa West, Villa South and El Taco in Ozark.

We've kept the same quality traditions since 1951. Every day, we cook from scratch and use fresh vegetables, real cheese, pure vegetable oil and pure beef. We boil the beef to remove most of the fat. Weekly, more than 3 tons of corn is ground with lava stones and cooked at our factory on Division St. for chips and tortillas. All flour tortillas, spice mixes and sauces are made at the factory too.

Mexican Villa is proud to grow with the Ozarks--sharing special times and days, watching your families grow. Many of you stopped in to work and some of you stayed. We could not have done it without all of you. As our story goes on, (three generations now), we look forward to serving you the Mexican food you grew up with.

JUST THE WAY YOU REMEMBER IT!

GRACIAS Amigos!
